Woman Charged With Forgery, Arrested in San Diego After Chase Across the Country.

After an exciting chase through Missouri and Illinois, then across the country to San Diego, Cal., where she was arrested last Saturday, Mrs. Addie Langdon, wanted in St. Louis on a charge of forgery, will reach the city to-day charge of an operative of Thiel's Detec-

The chase began last August and pursued and pursuer covered several thou-sand miles in the flight, resulting in her arrest. In Chicago it seemed the chase would end several weeks ago, as the detective located the woman in a house of Sixtleth street in Englewood. He was to sake the arrest next morning, but during the night Mra Langdon went out the back door, jumped one or two fences and made her escape. She had several hours start of the detective, who finally chased her to San Diego.

Mrs. Langdon is wanted on a charge of forging the name of Herbert McCall for 1500, but it is probable that she will also be held to answer to the charge of issuing worthless checks. She worked for Mrs. McCall, the only woman who had a concession at the World's Fair. Mrs. McCall died and her son, Herbert McCall, took charge of the property as trustee.

Mrs. Langdon forged his name, it is alleged, to a check for 1500, and secured 1500 on it, a man named Cate advancing the money. Her mother and daughter paid the 1500, but Dalton refused to drop the case. She was arrested and held in 2,000 bale, William Hambley being her bondsman. She had some time previously purchased a house from Mr. Hambley for 7,500, giving a check to him for the first payment on the property and immediately took possession of the house. She was ilving there when arrested, and it was through this transaction that she got Mr. Hambley to become surety for her appearance for trial. The check she gave to the real estate man was worthless, it is charged.

This done, the members of the court headed by Chief Justice Fuller, proceeded to the White House, where they paid their respects to President Roosevelt. The call of the docket will be begun to-morrow, and the presentation of arguments in contested cases will be in order. Monday, October 17, will be the first day upon which opinions will be handed down. Lastterm cases have been pretty well cleared up and only a few of general importance or interest remain undecided.

This year's docket contains 383 cases which is fifty less than were on the docket at this time last year. The one in which the greatest public interest proba-bly centers is that Swift & Co. vs. the United States, commonly known as the as the "Beef Trust" cases.

Another antitrust case set for argument early in the term is that of E. J. Smiley vs. the State of Kansas. Smiley was convicted of combining with the grain buyers and dealers of Bison. Kas., to fix the price of grain by means of a pool. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $600, and serve three months in jail, but has appealed on the alleged ground of the unconstitutionality of the State law under which he was convicted. convicted.

Another interesting case is the fight between the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Pennsylvania Radiroad, involving the right of the latter to cut down the poles of the former along its right of Various features of the recent Post-Office Department scandals are also to reach the Supreme Court this term.

There is also the case of Senator Burton of Kansas, convicted of having used his official influence corruptly.

KNIGHTS OF FATHER MATHEW CONVENE

Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri Present.

Others to Come Up Are Those of Convention Honors Memory of Thomas Fox, and Adjourns Until To-Day - May Change Rates.

> With more than 300 delegates from Illiis, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri in atendance, the eleventh biennial convenion of the Supreme Council, Knights of Father Mathew, opened yesterday in St. Alphonsus Hall, Grand and Cook avenues. It is the largest convention in the history of the order. The convention adjourned late in the afternoon, out of respect to the memory of Thomas Fox, the father of the order and one of the original ten charter members, who secured the incorporation of the Knights of Father Mathew in the State of Missouri in 1881.

No business except the appointment of the different organization committees and the reading of the officers' reports for the last two years was transacted.

The Reverend Father James T. Coffey, supreme spiritual director, opened the onvention yesterday morning with a solemn high mass at 19:30 o'clock, in St. Leo's Church. The delegates then repaired to the school hall in the rear of St. Lee's Church, where the following organization committees were appointed: Resolutions—Patrick Mulcahy, St. Louis; Doctor T. E. Purcell, Kansas City; Frank for the consideration of the delegates is the matter of the adjustment of the insurance rates. In nearly every large benevolent order in the country the insurance assessments have been raised in the last year. After much deliberation on the part of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Father Mathew it was decided to adjust these rates. The present system, the officers say, is inadequate to accommodate the increasing responsibilities of the order in insurance matters and it is for this reason that the efficers propose to amend the present constitution and establish a new set of rates.

Doctor T. B. Purcell, Kansas City; Frank Riley, Alton, Ili.; J. R. O'Reilly, Chicago, and F. P. Furlong, St. Louis, Credentials—M. J. Kileen, Chicago; J. J. Walsh, Kansas City; J. J. Bowles, Hannibal, Mo.; George Harry, St. Louis, and Richard Shea, St. Louis, Rules—Michael Creamer, Louisiana, Mo.; Michael McHenry, St. Louis; Thomas Godrey, St. Louis; Matthew T. Foley, Chicago, and Henry E, Rose, Kansas City, These committees held executive seasions yesterday afternoon and will make reports to the convention this morning. MAY CHANGE INSURANCE RATES. Probably the most important question

The opposition to this arrangement comes from many of the older members of the organization. It is expected that the difference of opinion will result in a thorough discussion of insurance rates. Supreme Chief Sir Knight O'Brien stated yesterday that the matter of the adjustment of the rates would be taken up this morning.

For the purpose of giving the delegates surance rates. In nearly every large ment of the rates would be taken up this morning.

For the purpose of giving the delegates an idea of the proposed changes and suggest a new rate, a committee was appointed yesterday to hear the parties who are opposed to the changes and also those who favor them. This committee was appointed by Supreme Knight O'Brien. It comprises: Doctor J. J. McJaughlin, chairman, All. Saints, No. 72, Chleago: Doctor T. E. Pafreell. St. Patrick's, No. 21, Kanaras City, P. J. Stretch, St. Louis, No. 1, St. Louis, Paul Dillon, Emerald. No. 76, St. Louis, and P. J. Monthan, St. Bridget's, No. 8 St. Louis.

Much friendly rivalry exists for the offices on the Supreme Board. The election will be held on the last day of the convention. No opposition to the officers acting as supreme chief sir knight and supreme spiritual director has developed.

LADIES' AUXILIARY MEETING.

LADIES' AUXILIARY MEETING.

On Wednesday morning the Ladies' Auxillary to the Knights of Father Mathew will open their blennial convention with a solemn high mass, to be by the Reverend Father Coffey in St. Leo's Church. The sessions of the convention will be held in St. Malachy's Hall. Ewing and Clark avenuez. The organization of the convention and the appointment of the committees will consume the time of the convention the first day.

On Thursday morning a requiem high mass will be attended by the delegates for the benefit of the late members of the auxiliary. At 12:20 o'clock the convention will adjourn for luncheon, the sessions starting again at 1:30 o'clock.

Supreme Chief Sir Knight O'Brien read his blennial report of the work accomplished by the order in the last two years. It was satisfactory to the delegates and was interrupted several times by appliance.

The points in the report are briefly. The result of the last two years has been practically a doubling in membership; the spreading of the order into new localities where heretofore it did not exist; the advertising of the order in such the did not exist; Supreme Chief Sir Knight O'Brien read result of the last two years has been practically a doubling in membership; the spreading of the order into new localities where heretofore it did not exist; the advertising of the order in such a manner as now every Catholic person is aware that there is such a fining as a strong, solvent Catholic total abstinence insurance organization; the creation of a better sentiment and a better feeling toward the total abstinence movement; the reduction of the average age of the membership of the organization from 25 to a fraction above 25 years; a reduction in five assessments in the last two years, notwithstanding that there was a larger amount of money paid out in benefactions than any time before.

The report of the phenomenal growth of the organization since the last blennial convention was pleasing to the large number of delegates present. Among the recommendations urged by the supreme knight were: Legislation, converting associate members into full knights of Father Mathew; amendments for a change in the mode of assessments; the abolition of the office of banker; a resolution for the publishing of a journal to be devoted to the interests of the organization; an amendment to the constitution abolishing grade twenty, and many others.

The report of the supreme recorder was distributed in pamphlet form. It showed the organization to be in a good state financially and suggested the necessity of the organization to be in a good state financially and suggested the necessity of changing the insurance rates.
